The Significance of it.

The great mass meeting in New York in which the Irish-Americans of the metropolis of America entered their protest against the nomination of Grover Cleveland is bound to be productive of far reaching results. For years the democratic party has been accustomed to look upon the Irish-American as having no right to vote any but the democratic ticket. Acting on this the democracy did not think itself under any obligation to take Irish-American sentiment into consideration. Over and over again has it placed in nomination for state and local offices men who were known to be anti-Irish in their sentiments. The nomination of Charles Francis Adams for Governor of Massachusetts did in nominating Adams, has been done in more or less insulting manner in every state in the union.

Democratic voters of Irish extraction rolled up democratic majorities. This was what was expected of them. No matter who was the nominee or what was the platform, the Irish-American voter was given to unverted to the paid in said mortgage, in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage, executed by James L. Front ranks of the democracy."

Now, the Irish-American mass meeting in New York has served notice on the democracy that for the future it will not be safe for it to rely upon this kind of unquestioning allegiance. It told the democratic leaders that the links of the chain that have so long heid Irish-Americans in political bondage have been melted in the white heat of indignation that has been aroused all over the have been melted in the white heat of indignation that has been aroused all over the land by a Presidential nomination that has been dictated by a contemptible faction of pro-Anglicans, who, though they have never cast a democratic vote, have forced four million democrats to accept as their standardbearer a man who has secured the nomination because he was acceptable to the proAnglican faction we speak of.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION—State of Michigan, Ninth Judicial Circuit—in Chancery. Forrest E. Camfield complainant, vs. John Spring and Minnie B. Camfield, defendants.

Sait pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Van Buren, in Chancery, at Paw Paw, on the 14th day of July, A. D. 1884.

In this cause it appearing from affidavit on file, that the defendant John Spring is not a resident of this state, but is a resident of the state of Pennsylvania; voted the democratic ticket and that they always will. Even such a demonstration as the monster meeting in Chickering hall will not convince them of the contrary. Some of them are predicting that long before November "the Irish bolters will see the error of their ways and vote for Cleveland." So thoroughly convinced are they that I rish-Americans are political slaves that they can not believe the Irish-Americans who have hitherto acted with the democratic party will refuse to support a candidate who has been nominated to please the pro-English faction who call themselve Independent republicans.

If the predictions of these politicians be verified, the democracy will be justified in ignoring for all time Irish-American opinion.

Prepared by an entirely NEW METHOD. Composed of the PUREST MATERIALS. WILL NOT INJURE THE FABRIC. WILL CLEANSE WITHOUT RUBBIMG.

You can do a large washing without any rubbing; use the boiling process instead. You can save Time, Labor, Fuel, Soap and Clothing.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

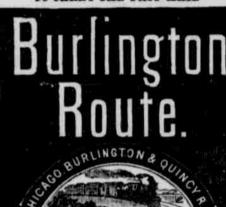

Cut up fine and dissolve one half bar in half gallon of hot water. Pour half this dissolved scap into a tub with just sufficient hot water to cover a boiler full of clothes. Then put the clothes in to scak, rubbing plenty of scap in the most soiled parts. Be sure that the scaking water is hot; scak the clothes half an hour; stir them occasionally so that they may go the full benefit of the hot suds; pour the remainder of the dissolved scap into the boiler, as do; sufficient water to cover the clothes; wring them lightly out of the suds. Sonp the stai newspots and place loosely in the boiler; boil to to so minutes, rinse well, blue and hang today. Bo not crowd the boiler too full. The same boiling water may be used for furtaboling by adding a little scap to each boilerfull of clothes. Fannels and prints should not be boiled, only a little rubbing required after scaking. This scap will cleanse clothing throughly as any other without the use of the boiler. We prefer and recommend the bisprocess as in itself a cleansing process, saving labor, the wear of the wash-board, and being a best disinfectent known, it is easier to boil the dirt out than to resource the same perfectly the finest fabric without injury; the finest point is and lace curtains.
